Hong Kong Fintech Week 2020 – Humanising Fintech

Hong Kong Fintech Week is Asia's global financial technology event. This year, the event will take place virtually in Hong Kong, from 2 – 6 November, allowing global fintech businesses, experts and visionaries to join from anywhere in the world to discuss how fintech is empowering society and businesses.

The impact of COVID-19 has been far-reaching, impacting global economies, businesses and people. The pandemic has exposed the urgent need for digital transformation in our global financial system. From the need to distribute funds across vast populations and geographies to those who need it most, to the demand for new banking and insurance models.

The pandemic has condensed years of digital adoption into a matter of months. Throughout the pandemic, Hong Kong's fintech sector has proven to be an economic oasis, with companies hiring, thriving and growing, to drive a new era of financial services.

With the theme of “Humanising Fintech”, Hong Kong FinTech Week 2020 is the platform to reignite growth and drive positive impact for society and business, connect and inspires fintech leaders to create a brighter future. This year's virtual conference is expected to attract over 25,000 participants from over 70 economies. The platform will comprise five channels, focusing on the resilience and development of Hong Kong, future fintech trends and growth opportunities. It will also provide a reinvented event experience with artificial intelligence-powered matchmaking and virtual networking opportunities. This year, the event is expected to attract over 350 global speakers including innovative fintech entrepreneurs, investors, regulators and academics, over, 500 fintech exhibitors and 30 delegations. Exhibitors will be able to showcase their latest technology solutions and meet the fastest growing fintech startups from across China, Asia and the world.

Key Topics and highlights of Hong Kong Fintech Week 2020:

1. The 200X Opportunity - The Hong Kong and Mainland China FinTech Vision, market growth, investment and local talent

Hong Kong is where great ambitions come alive. We are a gateway to Mainland China and the world in equal measure, where companies can access the largest, most dynamic fintech markets in the world. Companies, regulators and the government make the most of Hong Kong's unique position to scale up into mainland China, the Greater Bay Area, and the Southeast Asia. This enormous advantage presents a once-in-a-generation opportunity.

In Hong Kong we call this the 200X opportunity.

Speakers on 'The 200X Opportunity':

- Dr. Kai-Fu Lee, Chairman & CEO, Sinovation Ventures
$2Bn VC fund and globally renowned AI expert
- Mr King Leung, Head of Fintech, InvestHK
Helping worldwide FinTech companies to start business in Hong Kong
- Mr Tim Lee, Founder & CEO, QFPay

2. FinTech which works for everyone - Accessible and inclusive finance, virtual banking and insurance, the role of AI technology

As Asia's world city, Hong Kong is where innovation builds on tradition, where world class talent and investors come together in a fusion of East and West. A window of opportunity has opened for fintech companies to shape the recovery, to recapture growth, and drive positive societal change by addressing the major challenges exposed by the pandemic.

In Hong Kong we are building the next normal: a trusted, efficient and resilient financial services system that works for everyone.

Speakers on 'FinTech which works for everyone':

- Ms Angel Ng, CEO, Citi Hong Kong and Macau
- Mr Bill Winters, Group Chief Executive, Standard Chartered
A leading bank globally with 158 years of history
- Mr Calvin Choi, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, AMTD

5. Resilient, Efficient and Trusted Finance - Regulation and policy

We are at the beginning of a long recovery process, but businesses are confident they will emerge with the ability to scale up, access strong talent, capital and the infrastructure they need to remain relevant and competitive in the future.

Hong Kong's unique position provides a resilient, efficient and trusted gateway to these opportunities. Underpinned by a world class regulatory regime, Hong Kong offers certainty and stability for Fintech. This puts Hong Kong at the start of a long-term transformation in how people across Asia access their money, and this is likely to be a driving force of positive economic change for the region's one-billion-plus unbanked population.
