Market News

SZSE, HKEx, and CSDC Jointly Accomplish International Road Shows for Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect Program

SZSE, HKEx, and CSDC have jointly held more than 50 road shows to promote Shenzhen-Hong Kong Stock Connect for over 100 global leading institutional investors in late October. The delegation mainly introduced characteristics of Shenzhen stocks and trading mechanism to overseas cities such as London, Paris, Frankfurt, Toronto, New York and San Francisco. In addition, the delegation responded to global investors' inquiries about further improvement in the field of opening-up and market development. The response of global investors was positive as it shows the commitment of China's capital market's opening-up.

SZSE Promulgated the Memorandum on Name Change of Listed Companies

The Memorandum focuses on information disclosure to regulate the behaviors of listed companies. It requires listed companies to prudently change their names according to their actual operation situation, requires them not to change their names just for catering to the market to affect its stock price and mislead investors, and to fully disclose the reason and rationality of name change and the matching between the changed company name and business scope. SZSE will adopt the following supervision measures according to the actual situation: sending an inquiry letter, requiring the company to make relevant explanation to the market, requiring the company to self-inspect whether there is any insider trading or abnormal trading activities, or requiring the company to correct its non-compliant abbreviation.

Foreign Institutional Capital Investing China Approvals Accelerate in October

The accumulated volume of the approved QFII program grew by USD 2.7 billion in October to reach about USD 84.4 billion as of October 27. The increase was USD 258 million from August to September. Meanwhile, the RQFII program saw its accumulated volume increase by RMB 3.65 billion (USD 538 million) in October, compared with an increase of RMB 998 million from August to September. The acceleration of the volume of QFII and RQFII programs has been attributed to recent decisions by the central government to further open up its capital market.
